Coastal Fertility Medical Center Announces New Reproductive Endocrinologist Dr. Minoos Hosseinzadeh
Double Board-Certified Doctor Joins Coastal Fertility's Irvine Office

IRVINE, Calif. (April 9, 2007)—Dr. Lawrence B. Werlin, founder and director of Coastal Fertility Medical Center, announced the addition of Dr. Minoos Hosseinzadeh to the Irvine, Calif.-based practice. Dr. Hosseinzadeh, board-certified in Obstetrics and Gynecology as well as Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility, was brought on to accommodate demand at the burgeoning office and was selected based on her exceptional skills and reputation.

“Dr. Hosseinzadeh’s expertise and impressive background as a reproductive endocrinologist will undoubtedly reinforce Coastal Fertility Medical Center’s goals of bringing the highest quality of fertility treatments and personal care to our clients,” Dr. Werlin said.

Dr. Hosseinzadeh brings a wealth of knowledge to Coastal Fertility Medical Center. She performed an internship at McGill University in Montreal, Canada, and a four-year obstetrical and gynecology residency at the University of Ottawa in Canada. After completing a two-year fellowship program in reproductive endocrinology and infertility at the University of Cincinnati in Ohio, she served as co-director and division director of reproductive endocrinology and infertility of the OB/GYN residency program at the Riverside Regional Medical Center in Newport News, Va. While there, she had the opportunity to found the Riverside F.E.M.M.E. Institute, establishing IVF and Andrology laboratories before transitioning the institute into private practice. Dr. Hosseinzadeh also served as reproductive endocrinologist at the Fertility Center of New England, Inc. Just prior to joining Coastal Fertility Medical Center, she resided as reproductive endocrinologist at Abington Reproductive Medicine in Abington, Pa.

Dr. Hosseinzadeh received her medical degree from Laval University in Quebec, Canada, and is a member of the American Society of Reproductive Medicine, Society for Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility, American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology and the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Hosseinzadeh has presented at several national and international fertility meetings, including gatherings of the American Society for Reproductive Medicine. She has also authored numerous papers and abstracts in the fields of hormone replacement therapy and age-related female infertility. She is fluent in English, French and Farsi.
